Dear Mrs Lyons:

Only yesterday I had a chance to get to the downtown library to complete Judge Allen's speech from Olive Schreiner's works. After skimming the larger works, a brief process since their tone was utterly different from what I sought, I found in Bibelot, published of all places, in Maine, I found three Dreams. herewith I *enclose a slight

* attached to Judge Allens speech abridgment of the first climax. Probably ~~and~~ <sup>Judge Allen</sup> quoted it entire, but to me this will always convey enough of the emotion I felt on that memorable afternoon to bring it back afresh.

My thanks for your cordial letter.

sincerely yours,
